Important Decisions

Assessment to

Why?

Students need to make important decisions which can influence the rest of their lives.

The first of these is choosing subjects in year 10 for years 11 and 12

Through assessment their abilities, interests and attitudes can be considered, helping students make informed decisions.

Our Aim:

Our aim is to prevent students limiting their options as a result of poor decisions. For this reason we are proposing a comprehensive assessment where students abilities, interests and aptitudes can be identified. This will help students make the best choices for their future.

The Process:

The process would involve assessment of students, a written report and an opportunity for parents and students to have a follow up session with a psychologist. We believe input and participation of parents is an important part of the decision making process.
